Carranza's Reply Said To Be Ignored

Note Awaits Assent of the President, and May Not Be Sent Before Monday by State Department

Wallace Murder Is Separate Issue

Reparation To Be Asked; A. B. C. States Reported Offering Mediation

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—The American reply to the Mexican answer to this government's demand for the release of Consular Agent William O. Jenkins was framed today at the State Department, but it was not dispatched to Mexico City.

The note, which is confidently believed to be a reiteration of the original demand that the American officer be unconditionally released immediately, is believed to need only the signature of Secretary of State Lansing after its approval by President Wilson. Late to-night the answer had not been taken to the White House.

May Be Held Until Monday

While State Department officials would neither discuss the contents of the note nor when it would be sent to Mexico City for delivery to the Mexican Foreign Office, there is reason to believe that it will not be forwarded to Mexico until Monday.

In view of the fact that the Mexican government made public its reply to the United States not of November 29 in advance of its arrival in Washington, it is believed that the contents of the note that was framed today may be given to the press for publication simultaneously with its receipt by the Mexican Foreign Office.

A reply to the inquiry sent to Charge Sumner at Mexico City for detailed information on the charges by the Mexican government that Mr. Jenkins committed perjury in testimony regarding the kidnapping has been received here and a careful perusal of the report in the case is being made. It is believed that any change in this government's determination to stand on its original request that the liberation of Mr. Jenkins be immediately effective.

The State Department to-night had received no direct offer for mediation between the United States and Mexico in the case of Mr. Jenkins from the Argentine, Brazilian and Chilean governments, as was reported possible in advance of its arrival in Washington. Officials expressed belief, however, that even if such an offer would be made, it would not be accepted by Mexico until such conditions were made as would be acceptable to the State Department.

State Department officials today let it be known that the American government would not accept any mediation between the United States and Mexico in the case of Mr. Jenkins, rather than "demand" his liberation. This government was prepared to stand on the original statement that the detention of the American official was unwarranted, it was said.

The State Department today was without any further information of the murder of "James Wallace" in the Tampico district November 23. A complete report on the outrage has been requested of the American Consul there. When all the facts in this case are in the possession of the government, the Carranza authorities will be expected to make satisfactory amends for the murder.

Treaty May Form Obstacle

An element which diplomats said might offer an obstacle to speedy settlement of the Jenkins' case developed today when it was ascertained that a provision in a treaty between this government and Mexico might be asserted by the Carranza government. This is the so-called arbitration clause of the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo, signed in 1848. Article XI of this pact provides:

Gale Kills Three, Scores Are Hurt

Indianapolis, Muncie, Ft. Wayne and Other Towns in Indiana Damaged

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 29.—Two men died in Indianapolis, one woman killed at Muncie, and thousands of dollars damage to property was the toll of a wind storm that swept the state this afternoon. Scores of homes, schools and children in Indianapolis were injured in various degrees on the streets when the wind reached its greatest velocity.

Those killed in Indianapolis were Everett Morris, thirty-four years old, electrocuted by a fallen wire, and George Meek, forty-two years old, blown from a ladder on which he was working. Mrs. Eva Conner, forty-five years old, was killed when the cornice was blown from a business building in Muncie and struck her.

Reports from Fort Wayne, Anderson, South Bend and several other cities in the northern part of the state told of buildings being unroofed, trees uprooted, plate glass windows smashed and of general demoralization of street car, telephone and telephone service. The wind reached a velocity of fifty-six miles an hour here.

Illegal Rail Strike On in Kansas City

Walk-Out of 1,500 Yard and Switch Men Threatens to Tie Up Entire Coal Supply of District

Radical Element Blamed for Action

Grievances Said To Be Purely Local; Workers Struck Without Notice

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 29.—Fifteen hundred yardmen and trainmen of the Kansas City terminal and railroads entering the city went on strike today, early reports to-night indicated. Day crews left their work at 4 o'clock this afternoon and night crews due to go on at that hour did not go to work. Eight roads are affected so far.

The walk-out of switchmen at this time is considered a serious matter, as it means that coal cars will not be handled, and Kansas City virtually will be without fuel.

All switchmen employed by the Kansas City Southern, the Chicago & Alton, the Washburn, the Missouri Pacific and the Missouri, Kansas & Texas, and some of the crews of the Santa Fe, were reported on strike.

The strike was not authorized by national officials of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, according to a telegram received from W. G. Lee, national president, by W. M. Corbett, Federal railroad representative here. Radicals are blamed for the walk-out.

The strike was taken last night without demands having been presented to the railroad companies. The general chairman of the Brotherhood for the Kansas City Southern, declared his efforts to prevent the walk-out had been in vain. He asserted he attended the meeting last night but was not permitted to make public the proceedings.

King Scores 2 Field Goals and Nephews of "Uncle Joseph" Beat Cadets for First Time Since 1912

By W. O. McGeehan

For the first time since 1912 the Navy beat the Army on the football field by a score of 6 to 0, and the cadets from West Point sat stiffly in their seats while two thousand midwives from Annapolis poured through the mists into the field at the Polo Grounds like a swarm of black ants.

From start to finish the light, trim Navy team outplayed the lumbering team from West Point, plowing through the Army line as a destroyer plows through water.

King, right tackle of the Navy team, made himself the favorite nephew of Uncle Joseph Daniels yesterday. King scored the whole six points for the Navy by field goals from placement. One was booted between the posts in the second period from the 27-yard line. The other shot through the same place from the 22-yard line in the fourth period. And the Army never looked dangerous.

A light downpour started at the moment the crashing report of a small field piece from West Point signaled the opening of the game. The drizzle seemed a bit flustered. It was something of an unusual situation for Uncle Joseph to find himself on the side of a team that was leading.

Uncle Joseph, mostly inelastic in his open field box, watched for the Navy team to engage in illegal strike while the Army, Uncle Joseph seemed a bit flustered. It was something of an unusual situation for Uncle Joseph to find himself on the side of a team that was leading.

Government to Await Results of 14% Offer; Factions Are Told Injunction Will Be Enforced

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Developments in the government's efforts to insure an adequate fuel supply for the country today to-night the outcome of attempts of soft coal operators to induce miners to return to work for a wage advance of 14 per cent and assurances of Federal protection.

Notices of this wage advance suggested by Federal Administrator Garfield were posted at the mines immediately following the Thanksgiving holiday. Resumption of work was not expected until next week, at the beginning of the second month of the strike, which technically was called off November 11.

Operators here expected Monday to see many of the miners, especially in outlying districts not in the central competitive territory, back to work.

States to Be Given Chance

Standing firm on their announced intention to spare neither operators nor miners who interfered with delaying the restoration of production to normal, Dr. Garfield and Attorney General Palmer awaited developments in the mining strike. It was indicated no further steps by national authorities were contemplated until the state and local officials handled the situation satisfactorily.

However, it was deemed significant that Dan W. Simms, special assistant United States District Attorney in Indiana, declared coal will be produced, and every miner or operator who violates the terms of the temporary injunction issued by Judge Anderson will be cited for contempt.

Prosecutor Simms also served notice the government will prosecute all miners or operators who transgress the Lever act.

Congress Expects Special Message

Administration Leader Tries Futilely All Day to See the President

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Senator Hitchcock, acting Administration leader in the Senate, arrived in Washington from his home in Nebraska today in the hope of conferring with President Wilson upon plans for ratification of the treaty in the regular session of Congress which opens on Monday. Senator Hitchcock was unable to see the President. The engagement Senator Hitchcock had for this morning with the President was postponed until after Dr. F. X. Doremus and other specialists had held their weekly consultation over President Wilson's condition.

Later the Senator said that he did not know when he would be permitted to confer with the President. Although after the consultation among the physicians Dr. Grayson, the President's personal physician, announced that Mr. Wilson was able to see the Senator at any time.

Senator Hitchcock may go to the White House to-morrow, he said, but he added that the conference may be postponed until later in the week. The Senator said there was no necessity for conferring with the President immediately, since no plans for a compromise would be formulated until the Democratic Senators had returned from their homes and reported the wishes of their constituents.

Special Treaty Message

It is probable that the President will send a special message on the treaty to the Senate when he asks to withdraw it and resubmit it to that body. In the mean time the Administration leaders in the Senate will be working to enact a compromise on reservations.

The Article X reservation is the main stumbling block, said Senator Hitchcock, "and if that could be straightened out and a modification of the preamble could be secured, a compromise on the treaty reservation could easily be agreed upon."

The Democratic Senators, in the opinion of Senator Hitchcock, are willing to enter compromise negotiations on a "give and take" basis.

"There will be a compromise if the President approves," the Senator continued. "Otherwise we will stand pat."

Senator Hitchcock said the President gave him the impression that he talks a few days before the treaty was defeated in the Senate that he would be willing to compromise on reservations to secure ratification. The President may have changed his mind, however, Senator Hitchcock said.

Strikers Lose All Union Benefits, Says W. G. Lee

CLEVELAND, Nov. 29.—W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, today wired W. M. Corbett, government railroad representative at Kansas City, that the proposed strike of trainmen there was illegal and that no protection or benefits of the brotherhood would be given to men engaging in illegal strikes.

Mr. Lee's telegram follows:

"Associated Press quotations of notice given by H. A. Carroll today regarding proposed illegal strike of yardmen, Kansas City vicinity, fully supported by me. Our membership must be warned the penalty that will follow violation of contract, and surely cannot be persuaded to engage in illegal strike with knowledge that government, now operating the roads, with the assistance of bona fide labor organizations, will make such strike an illegal act. I have no sympathy with members of organized labor who are unwilling to permit authorized committees to handle their organization's wage and other questions of controversy according to their organization law and civil methods."

Everything has been done by the authorized committee of brotherhood to handle negotiations now pending with the Administration, and the four transportation brotherhoods are due to meet at the Director General's office, December 2, in further conference regarding wages.

You can make public this message as position of Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, and no protection or benefits of the brotherhood would be given to men engaging in illegal strikes either at Kansas City or other points. I am confident a substantial majority of the members of the brotherhood will appreciate their membership by continuing to perform their usual and regular duty, regardless of any element that may seek to disrupt the organization or who seem to be of the belief they are greater than our government."

Corbett, government railroad representative at Kansas City, that the proposed strike of trainmen there was illegal and that no protection or benefits of the brotherhood would be given to men engaging in illegal strikes.

Mr. Lee's telegram follows:

"Associated Press quotations of notice given by H. A. Carroll today regarding proposed illegal strike of yardmen, Kansas City vicinity, fully supported by me. Our membership must be warned the penalty that will follow violation of contract, and surely cannot be persuaded to engage in illegal strike with knowledge that government, now operating the roads, with the assistance of bona fide labor organizations, will make such strike an illegal act. I have no sympathy with members of organized labor who are unwilling to permit authorized committees to handle their organization's wage and other questions of controversy according to their organization law and civil methods."

Everything has been done by the authorized committee of brotherhood to handle negotiations now pending with the Administration, and the four transportation brotherhoods are due to meet at the Director General's office, December 2, in further conference regarding wages.

You can make public this message as position of Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, and no protection or benefits of the brotherhood would be given to men engaging in illegal strikes either at Kansas City or other points. I am confident a substantial majority of the members of the brotherhood will appreciate their membership by continuing to perform their usual and regular duty, regardless of any element that may seek to disrupt the organization or who seem to be of the belief they are greater than our government."
